How is this going to work?

Welcome to our next Online TDR® Trial. Progression through the levels via Titles and Championships is separate from that of live trials. In the spirit of TDRally®, we trust that you do not over-rehearse rounds and ensure that you submit an honest performance. Good luck everyone!

On Monday 3rd June, the courses will be published on the Talking Dogs website. They will also be available by e-mail on request. Get the word out to your friends who do not use the internet! There will be one class of each level including Veteran classes. Entries will be limited to 2 classes per team PLUS a Veteran class if you are eligible.

Judges-This rally will be judged by Jayne Crowther, Cristen Brown and Amie Matthews. Judges will not be judging specific rounds instead taking turns to judge rounds as they are submitted.

Courses- All of the courses have been designed by Judge Jayne Crowther. They will feature fewer stations than those in live TDR®, in order to fit into the average back garden or driveway. You can use a tripod or put your camera or phone on a chair if you haven't got a handy helper in your household.

Course laying – you may print off TD rally signs or write your signs on paper and use anything you like to keep them in place. We do need to see where you intend to perform each exercise so we know that the course is laid out correctly.

Filming – please ensure your camera or phone is in Landscape mode as this will make it much less likely that you go out of shot. It is essential that you remain in shot at all times, and that your video submission is one continuous piece of film. No submissions with any editing will be permitted. The Bonus exercise should be filmed separately after the course has been completed.

Identification – please write clearly on a piece of paper your TDR® competitor number, the word 'BONUS' if you intend to do the bonus, and the judge whose course you are intending to work, so that we send your entry to the correct person. Hold this up to the camera, then work your round as usual.

When you have filmed your round, you should then upload to YouTube and e-mail the link to Gemma Kermode gemk83@hotmail.co.uk

If your round cannot be verified for judging, for example if you have gone out of sight during the round or laid the course incorrectly, you will be offered the chance to refilm, until the competition has closed for entries.

Once the competition has closed for entries, we will pass the entries to judges to be judged the weekend of 22nd/23rd June. We hope to have the results to post by Monday 24th June. We ask you to be patient if it takes longer, judges are busy people!

Entry fees

£3 per class entered. This includes a copy of your mark sheet along with a certificate (if a qualifying mark is awarded) which will be e-mailed to you.

If you would like qualifying rosettes as at live trials, these can be purchased and posted to you after the event at a cost of £3.50 each including p& p
